
Dating. Exposed.
ALPHABET SOUP

ALPHABET SOUP
Season 1

Synopsis

Alphabet Soup* is *a 6 x 26' dating series focusing on New York singles, most of whom identify as trans, non-binary and/or BIPOC.

As cultural conversations around gender, identity, and love evolve, Alphabet Soup arrives as a timely, genre-defying docuseries that reimagines what a dating show can be. Helmed by director Shannon Alexander, this six-part series offers a fashion-forward, emotionally raw portrait of modern queer connection—centered on the voices of trans, non-binary, and BIPOC individuals navigating intimacy, identity, and self-expression.

Alphabet Soup Season 1 delivers more than just romantic highs and heartbreaks. It reveals the candid thoughts and encounters between singles looking to mingle and more.

Shot with verité intimacy and cinematic style, the series captures moments that are unguarded, raw, comical, and deeply personal—while visually pushing the boundaries of traditional nonfiction storytelling.

Production Details

Series - unscripted / USA
6x26' / 2025

Production Company
Early Autumn

Produced and Directed by
Shannon Alexander

Details

- Domestic US Launch - June 9th, 2025 on Peacock and Tubi
- Season 2 currently in production

CANOE/FILM

71-75 Shelton Street, Covent Garden, London WC2H 9JQ www.canoe.film
Sales Contact: Caroline Stern / caroline@canoe.film / +44 (0)7476 854 969